Frequently Asked Questions – Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC) Records

---

There are no records of the CCC in the Nevada State Archives. The CCC was a federal program and the records are at the National Archives. They are in Record Group 35 "Records of the Civilian Conservation Corps." The records are arranged by state and camp number. A guide to the records is available online at <http://archives.gov/research/guide-fed-records/groups/035.html>

<http://www.archives.gov/st-louis/archival-programs/civilian-personnel-archival/ccc-holdings-access.html> provides information on how to request CCC records from the National Archives. Written requests may be mailed to:

National Archives & Records Administration
ATTN: Archival Programs
PO Box 38757
St. Louis, MO 63138

For an excellent published account of the CCC in Nevada, see the book The Civilian Conservation Corps in Nevada: from Boys to Men by Renee Corona Kolvet and Victoria Ford, University of Nevada Press, 2006.
